

NOTE: The Protection Range number will appear only once you get a Buy or Sell signal as shown in the following image (Image 11):

As mentioned, the Protection Range feature also compares the time frame you are trading with the current market volatility and alerts you to this.

This allows us to determine whether we would be risking too much when trading on a lower time frame, such as a 5 min chart eg. 100 pips Stop Loss set on a 5min time frame. (Again, we need to check the Protection Range value and trade according to the rules, as set out in the rules section later in this manual).

NOTE: More on this will be explained in the DVDs and in the members' area also.
