From: William Siu
To: Nigel, Randy

Hello Hawkeye team (Nigel and Randy)

I am a new member with the Hawkeye community. It is such an awesome system. Thank you for offering it.

I notice in a few webinars that your Metatrader 4 members cannot get the desired timeframe for their charts.

In fact it is possible to create ANY timeframe within Metatrader 4. It does require some work, but it can be done, and you can save the Profiles once they are set up.

Follow these steps (I use the example for creating an 8 hour chart for EurUsd):

(1) One a 1 hour chart for the desired currency pair (eg. EurUsd), go to Navigator (it should be on the left hand side of the platform, or "Ctrl N" as short cut keys if somehow Navigator was previously closed)

(2) go to and open "Scripts"

(3) go to and open "period_converter",

(4) open the "Inputs" tab,

(5) change the value of "ExtPeriodMultiplier" to 8,

(6) Click "OK"

(7) Then go to top left corner, under the "File" tab,

(8) "Open Offline"

(9) in the newly opened window, you should now be able to find a chart for your specified currency and specified time (for example, EURUSD H8 for our case)

(10) Open this chart, and make sure the "Expert Advisor" button is turned on at the top of the MT4 platform

(11) Now you have a spanking new H8 chart for EURUSD, and you can apply your favorite Hawkeye template to it.

Some notes:

You need to keep the base currency timeframe chart opened (although you can minimize it or hide it)

You can do the above steps for any currency.

And you can create ANY time frame by a combination of the starting base char time frame you use in step (1), and the selected multiple you use in step (5).

For example, if you want to create a H8 chart, you can also use a H4 chart as the base chart, just change the multiple in step (5) to 2, you can still result in a H8 chart.

For shorter timeframe than 1H, you can use 1 minutes chart as the base chart, and just adjust the multiple in step (5) accordingly.

I hope my above explanation is not too difficult to follow.

Your members can also try google for the steps also, try "Customizing MT4 time frames" or "how to create 8 hour chart in metatrader".

I hope this can help some other Metatrader Hawkeye members. This is just my small contribution to a great community.

Cheers.

William