Welcome Fellow Traders, Newbies, Pros and In Between. The next paragraph in red is a step by step explanation to load and ready your MT4 platform to generate your binary option scalper trades.

Those of you that are experienced doing this phase can skip it, just load your .ex4 and .mq4 indicators into “indicators” folder and the template in the “templates” folder in the broker's MetaTrader folder on your main drive in the “programs” folder.

O. K. you're going to need a free demo forex MetaTrader 4 (MT4) platform to generate your Fx Binary Scalper trades. If you don't have one, click on this link : <http://www.hotforex.com> to open a demo account with a free MT4 platform. If you are a U.S. Resident, choose “other” in the drop down “country” box. I receive no compensation for this. If you know or prefer another broker, go right ahead.

Download your MT4 platform to your desktop, double click on the icon and follow directions to load into your computer. After your finished, go ahead and close the platform.

1. Now double click on “my computer” or “computer”
2. Double click on your main disk, usually “C” drive then double click on the programs folder or on some computers program (X86) folder.
3. Scroll down to MetaTrader/Broker's Name and double click on that to open the platform folder.
4. Then scroll down to “templates” file and open that, then drag and drop or copy and paste the fx_binary_scalper.tpl into it.
5. Then scroll back up to the “experts” folder and open that, then scroll to the “indicators” file and open that.

6. You then want to put 3 files into this folder, the SS_short_term_trend alert, the PPO.ex4, and lastly the ZeroLag MA.ex4
7. Close my computer, open your MT4 platform and in the “Market Watch” window on the left, right click on a currency pair and choose open chart. Then at the top click on 5m for the correct timeframe and again at the top click on the drop box on the little template icon and choose the fx_binary_scalper by left clicking on it and you should see your chart all ready to trade. Repeat with any other desired pairs.

Now we are ready to trade (I hope) Please don't send me an email 5 minutes after you received the system asking “how do I open the .ex4 file?” You would be surprised how many I get like that. Didn't even open the User Guide. You don't open the .ex4 or the .tpl You have to place them in a particular folder as explained above. O.K how do we trade the method successfully. Look at the chart and I'll explain.....

You see the lime alert arrow, somewhere during that 5 minute candle, we would have received an audible/visual alert that there is going to be a reverse. On the next candle, the alert line turned sky blue sometimes during the candle. The PPO confirming window below hadn't made a clean crossover yet but regardless, the candle we enter on must have the alert line completely changed color going through it. So as you can see on the next candle, the one that has the aqua arrow and vertical line, we were ready for it and we opened our trade right away. It was 16:40 most likely about a minute later. Because it was 16:40 or after, we set our expiry for the next 15 minutes, namely 17:00 This is the longest scalping trade you will have with this system. As you can see at the magenta arrow, we won it by a long shot and on that same candle immediately we would have entered a put trade which would have been a winner also. Pretty simple, eh? Basically, that is all there is to it. Don't try and read between the lines because it is pretty cut and dry. Not a whole lot of trader input here just a whole lot of trader attention because things happen fairly quickly. But don't let it rile you up as you seen in my video on the website how slow I can be and still win my trades.(Heh, Heh) I can read your mind, yes you still need to practice for awhile preferably on a demo account or at least trades not more than $5. each. Practice makes perfect, old saying, still valid.

O.K what else can I tell you without it looking like filler. Believe me, I don't do that. I don't care if the guide is only 2 pages long, as long as I have told you everything you need to know.

I always get asked, what's the best binary broker to use? In my opinion, right now, there are two : Banc de Binary and 24Option. BdeB requires $500. to open an account but after you open one they also will give you a demo account to practice with and it has $50,000. demo dollars in it. Also trading live I believe you can make trades as low as $1.

24Option requires $250. to open an account and minimum trades are $24. I believe if you request it from your trade manager, he will give you a demo to practice. Below are my rep. Links for both.....

Well folks, that's my story and I'm sticking to it! This trading system is "Stupidly Simple" It's a "Money Maker" So go get'em. I take pride in my support. I'm here for you and only an email away. As a favor I ask you that if you are doing good and don't need any help, still let me know please. I usually only hear from the people that are having problems which of course includes all those that don't take a few minutes to read the guide but I seldom hear from the guys that are knocking them dead and cleaning house with the system. Cheers, Ed
