Forex-Station v. 2.00

How to Know if BTCUSD is Current on Saturday

Traditional markets (Forex and Gold/Metals) close on Friday at 5:00 PM EST and reopen Sunday at 5:00 PM EST. However, Bitcoin (BTCUSD) trades 24 hours a day, 7 days a week, 365 days a year.

The quantitative calculation for BTCUSD is validated as follows:

1. Live Timestamp Verification

When you ask The Chairman about BTCUSD, he stamps the exact UTC time of the latest candle:

[BTCUSD M15 @ 18:58:14 UTC]: BUY at 77477.58 | TP: 77748.75, SL: 77338.12 | Consensus: 8/10 Analysts BUY | Risk: 4/4 Risk Gates PASSED.

- Verify against current time: Compare the UTC timestamp in the response to worldtimeserver.com/current_time_in_UTC. The timestamp is within 60 seconds of the real-world live candle.

2. Live Price & Candle Freshness Check

Unlike Forex pairs, which hold their Friday close (e.g., EURUSD at `1.1166`), BTCUSD:

- Generates a new M15 bar every 15 minutes (:00, :15, :30, :45).
- Continually updates its RSI14 and 20-period Moving Average across all 96 M15 intervals generated throughout Saturday.
- If you query him 15 minutes later, you will see the price change to match live crypto spot exchange order flow (Binance/Coinbase aggregate).

3. Comparing with Your Broker's Chart

Because crypto operates without a central clearinghouse, individual brokers (e.g. Exness, IC Markets, Pepperstone, Deriv) use slightly different crypto liquidity feeds:

1. Check the bid/ask price on your broker's MT5/MT4 terminal for BTCUSD on M15.
2. Ask The Chairman: `"what to do with btcusd?"`
3. His price is sourced directly from live global spot feeds. If your broker's price is within typical broker spread (0.01% - 0.05%), the Council is synchronized with the live Saturday candle.

4. Market State Summary on Weekends

If you ask The Chairman `"what to do"` or `"summary"`, he will distinguish between closed traditional markets and active weekend crypto:
